

The Basel II Project Management

Managing the Complexities of Change for your Bank

Why Choose Project Management?

Defining and managing complex changes in systems, training and procedures to make your bank ready for Basel II compliance is a highly specialized and resource intensive process. Typically your bank will not have the in-house Basel II knowledge to ensure that you do not waste money on trial and error planning.

The answer is to ask our specialized Basel team to help you map out the entire scope of Basel II conversion and provide you the guidance you need to avoid repeating the costly mistakes made by many others on the road to compliance.

What will Project Management Include?

We will provide you with a comprehensive overview and series of milestones to ensure on-time and on budget conversion to Basel II compliance.

This will include determining the resource requirements your bank will need to meet your strategic objectives. Subsequently we will assist you with the task distribution and with the overall management of the project.

Who will benefit?

Basel II Project Management will ensure a smooth, sound and streamlined migration to Basel II for every stakeholder in the bank. Your bank's management will remain in full control, but will not have the daily project management burden. Your Basel II team will work in close consultation providing regular progress reports and updates on the move to more complex reporting and risk assessment.

At what stage should I get Project Management?

We encourage a well-prepared and well-thought basis for the start of any project. For banks that are relatively new to Basel II we recommend that your bank starts by requesting the first two stages of The Basel II Readiness Program

- 1) The Basel II Report Card
- 2) Strategic Advisory and Planning Services.

Once you have benchmarked your bank's current level of preparedness and senior management has been well-advised on the correct Basel II strategy to pursue, project management can begin.

To get started contact us to discuss your needs and we can ensure a smooth, streamlined cutover to Basel II compliance.
